The BARNARD FAMILY
OF ANDOVER.

Robert (1) Barnard and his wife, Joan- said to be Joan Harvey- had a homelot adjoining Simon Bradstreet's, in North Parish. He was one of the original ten Church members here, and came with the others, from Newbury. Frank King Barnard, historian, thought that Robert came to Andover in 1644 and served in the Indian War during a raid in 1659- about which I have no record.

Robert had a brother Thomas (1) of Newbury who had a share in the new settlement at Nantucket where he was one of the ten original proprietors. As each of the ten was privileged to vote one new member, Thos. voted his brother Robert of Andover, so in 1663 he- Robert- and his family left our settlement for the one on the island.

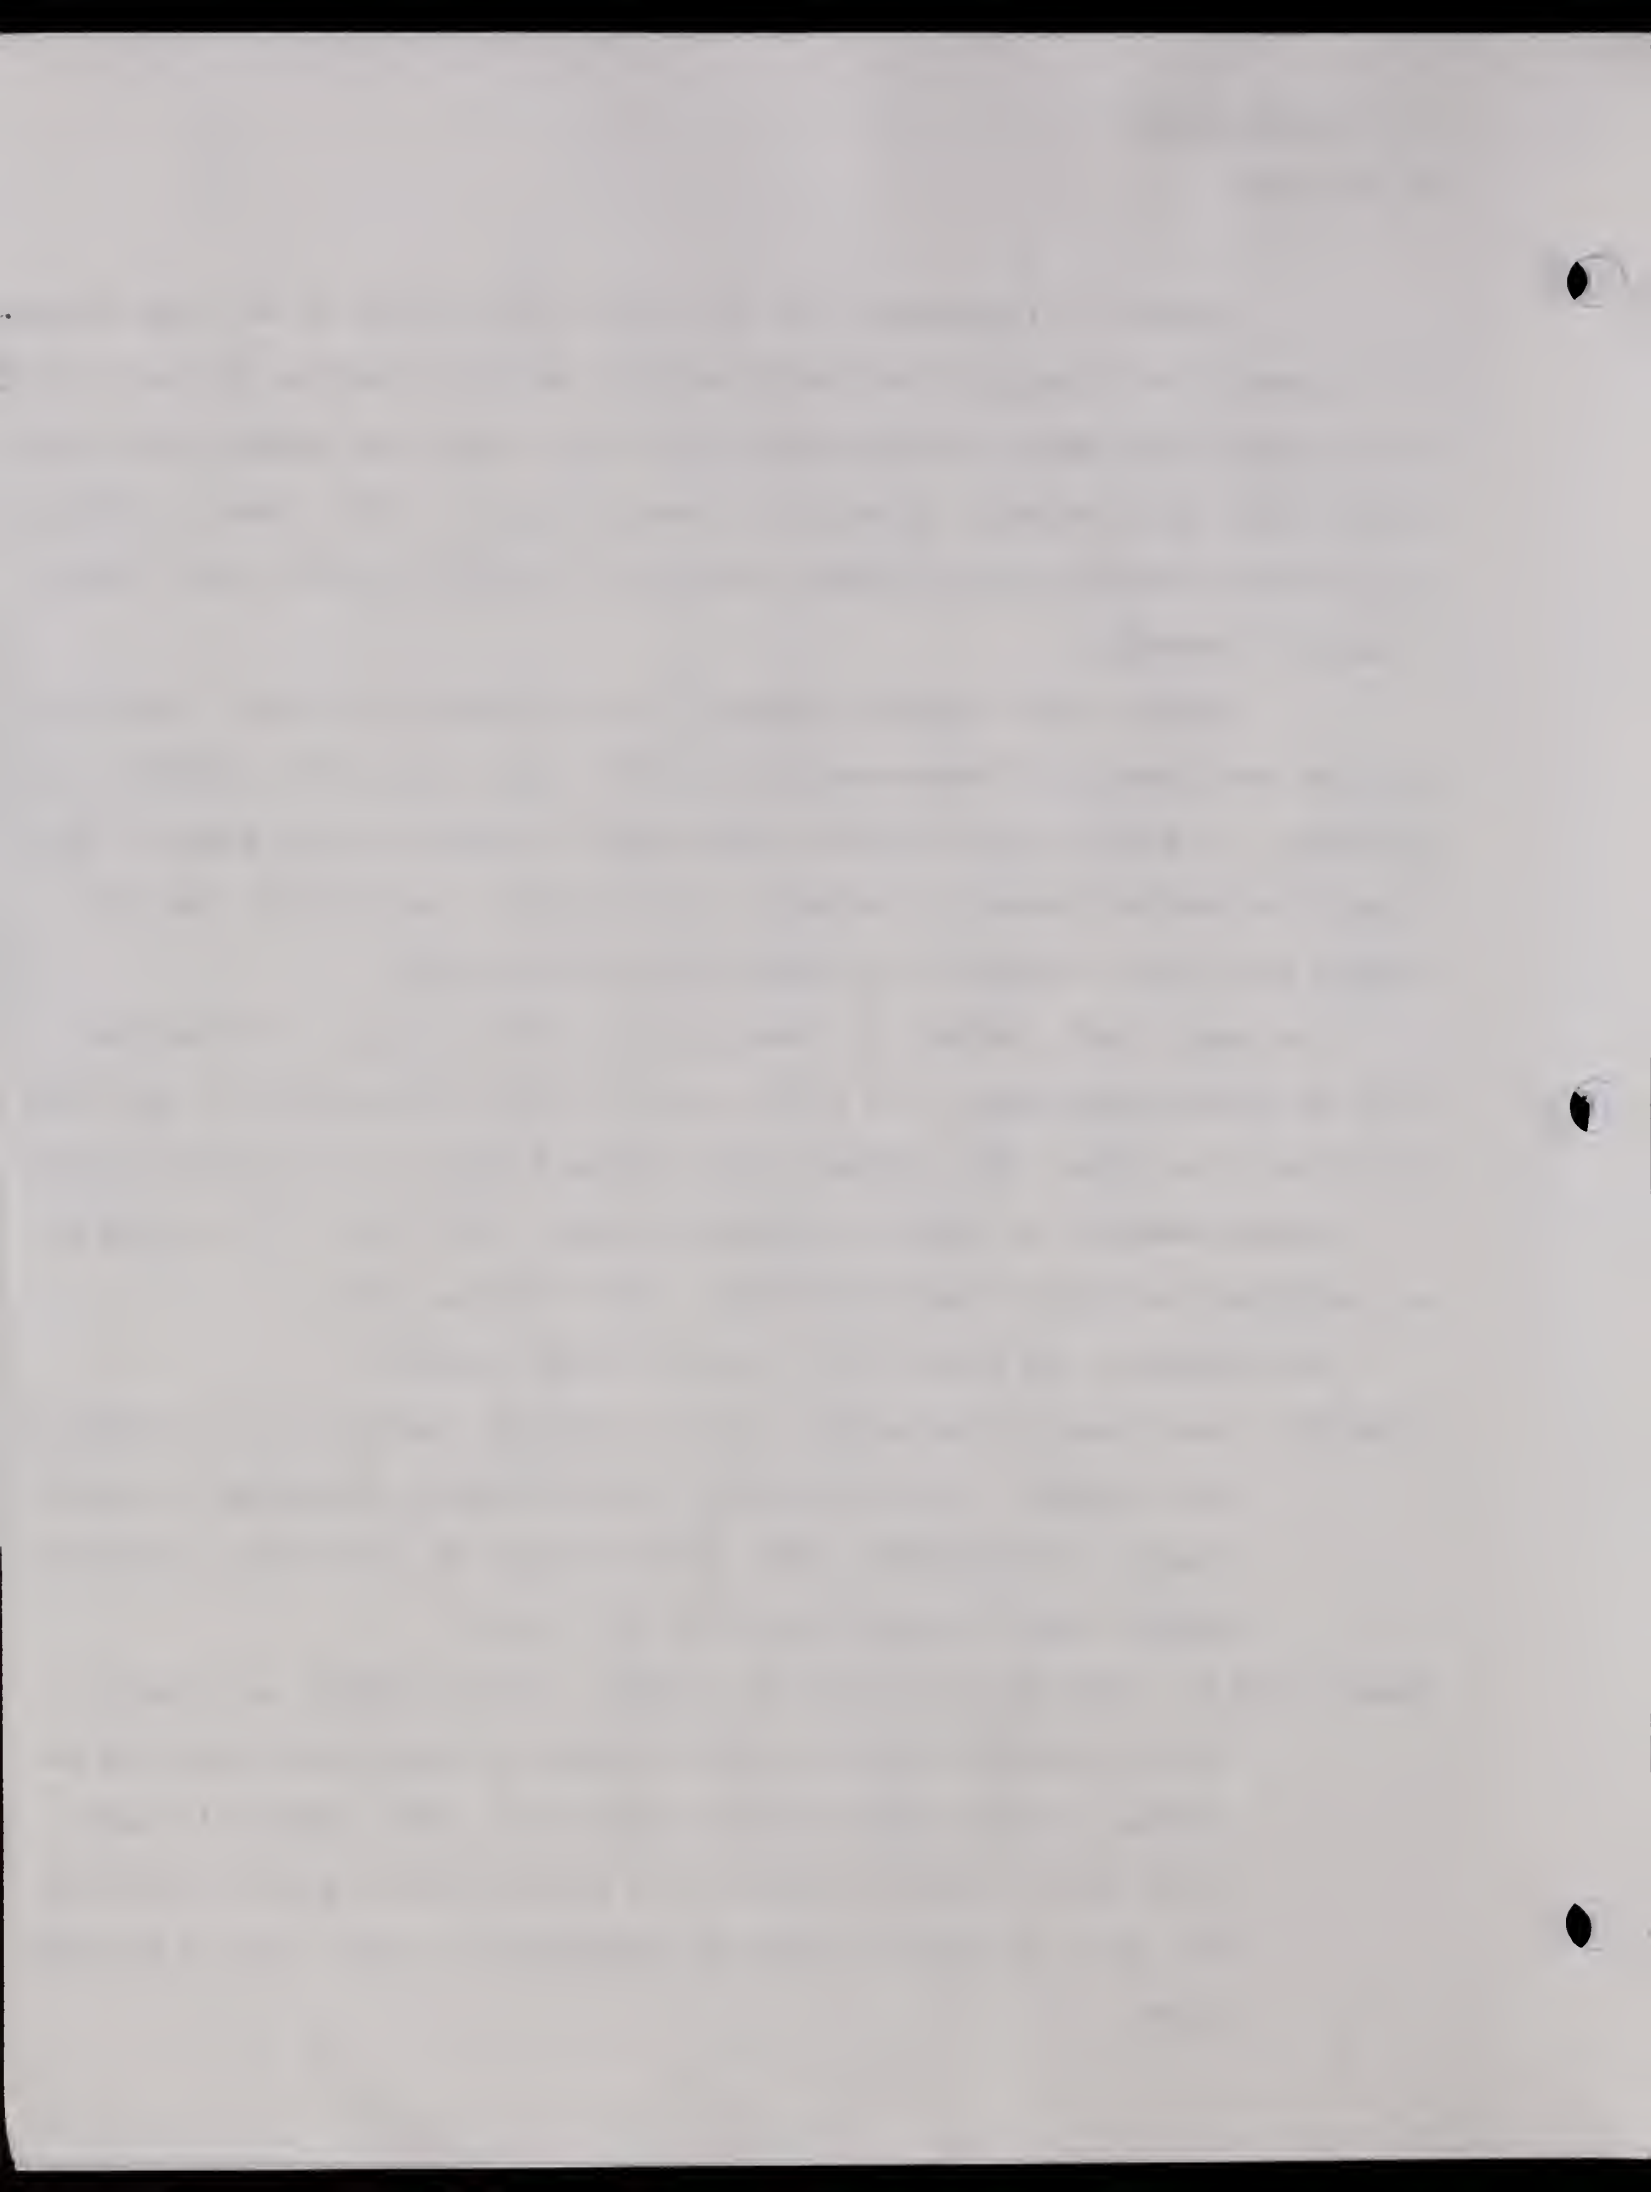

In June, 1667, Robert (1) Barnard and wife, Joan, of Nantucket, sold to Simon Bradstreet, for £ 120, all the land they owned in Andover, including that which they bought from Joseph Wright, - 12:60, Salem deeds.

Thomas remained in Newbury, where he died, and Robert (1) stayed on at Nantucket until his death in 1682. Joan died in 1705.

The children of Robert (1) and wife Joan, were :-

John (2), who went to Nantucket with his father. He was b. in Salisbury, Jan. 2, 1642 . He m. in 1668, Bethia Folger, daughter of Peter Folger of Nantucket. Both were drowned in June 1669, in Boston harbor while journeying north in a boat.

Hannah (2) b. here in the woods of Andover, about 1644-5; m. June 13, 1662, John (2) Stevens, son of John (1) and Elizabeth; she d. 1675. Children were John(3); Nathan(3); and Joshua(3). Queer that nobody recalls Joann- but Hannah had no girls. Later in the line, Joanna, was used by Ebenezer(3), but it was a Sprague name.

Mary (2), ^{here 1666, /} b. 1647; m. Nathaniel (2) Barnard, son of her uncle Thomas(1) of Salisbury; she lived in Nantucket; had a daughter Mary, (3) b. Feb. 24, 1667; (doubtless others in Nantucket records.)

Stephen (2), b. in Andover, 1649; (I had 1648) ; not recorded; he was 15 when his family left for Nantucket; evidently was the only male heir, and returned to Andover determined to take possession of Division land. He claimed rights which Robert (1) insisted were not included in the sale to Bradstreet. (These rights were contested as late as 1714 by the Barnards, who were persevering, and Robert (3) got them. I have never seen the case, but it was for 4 acres, worth £ 8,- and is on record somewhere. The 4 acres were clearly sold to George Abbott for £8 before Robert (1) left Andover, and the other land was sold in 1679 to Bradstreet, after Barnards had made their home in Nantucket. It was a case of diamond cut diamond. Bradstreet wished to buy out the non-residents and control the Division Lots and hoped he had gotten rid of Robert Barnard. R. King Barnard, said that Robert (1) had a lawsuit on when he left and that Robert(3) revived it as adm. of the estate of his grandfather, dec., formerly of Andover.) Stephen probably took up land for himself. He m. Rebecca Howe; she d. 1725; he d. at 74, in 1722.

Martha (2), b. here before 1658(I feel sure); m. William Rogers of Martha's Vineyard.

Sarah (2) b. very likely, 1658 ; she m. 1677, James (2) Skiffe of Martha's Vineyard, son of Jas.(1) Skiffe and w. Sarah Reaves.-Nantucket Deeds, March 10, 1677: James Skiffe to espoused wife, Sarah Barnard- he of Tisbury-she of Sherborn- a marriage contract. In 1679 they convey the estate of Robert(1) Barnard, dec.,- and one tract was given because they promise to maintain the widow, Joan.

Stephen (2) Barnard (Robert (1) and wife, Rebecca Howe, had:-

Stephen (3), b. between 1671-1678, was very likely the oldest son, and, for some reason, was not recorded in Andover; he m. 1714,

Hannah Bixby; he appears to have joined South Church in 1728.

John (3), b. 1674; d. 1786; probably named for g-father, a John Howe or uncle John Barnard; m. Amy or Naomi, before 1696; do not know / parents; b. 1672.

FACTS ABOUT ROBERT(1) BARNARD and COURT PAPERS.

Robert(1) Barnard and wife Joan are mentioned but once on the Town Records, then- as parents of Mary, b. 1657. The Hanna Barnard who married John (2) Stevens in 1662(s.1675) was probably their daughter, as Hanna of Salisbury, daughter of THOMAS, married Benj. Stevens, and in 1697, as widow of this Salisbury resident, signs the receipt for money paid her by her youngest brother, John, who admin. his deceased mother's estate " in the reign of our Sovereign Lord William III."

The next paper concerning our Robert, who was one of the first ten church members in Andover, is his deed to Simon Bradstreet in June, 1667;- Robert and Joan, his wife, convey their land for 120 L.

From Savage's volume, I learn that the Nantucket folks claim Nathaniel of Salisbury, son of Thomas, as ancestor of all the Barnards down there; that he came there, with his uncle Robert, in 1650, from England.

Thomas Barnard of Salisbury had a son Nathaniel who was of Nantucket when the 1697 papers were signed. He is said to have married his cousin- the daughter of his uncle Robert- probably the Mary of Andover. He died there shortly after the death of his wife, in 1718.

Savage goes on to say that Robert from Salisbury, brother of aforesaid Thomas, had only one son, John, b. 1642, and that Robert moved to Nantucket 1663 and died there 1682, his widow, Joan, living until 1705. He says also that son John married Bethia Folger, daughter of Peter, Feb. 1669, and both were drowned on a trip to Boston, the following June.

The BARNARD FAMILY

Savage does not seem to connect his Robert with our man at all. It is very plain that Robert visited Nantucket in 1650 with a nephew, Nathaniel. John, in 1663, when he was 21, took his parents to Nantucket. The three children, born in Andover, Hanna, Stephen and Mary, were not credited to Robert in the Salisbury records, where he lived before Cochichewick was started.

When, through the death of John, Robert's hopes on his rights to return to Andover, fail, he sends his son Stephen within the year. Stephen in 1671 marries Rebecca Howe, probably a resident of the Methuen hill near the Haverhill border, held so long by the Howes.

Robert, Sr., held land rights until 1714, and these fell to his grandson, Robert, to settle. The litigation in the Robert Barnard Proprietors' Rights, is too long a story to take up here- but 4 acres worth £8 remained to old Robert, who probably spent his last days with his daughter Mary and nephew Nathaniel.

The children of Stephen (2) and those of Mary (2), wife of John Stevens are his descendants in old Andover. I will leave wiser heads to connect Francis Barnard's family of Hadley, 1660 with this line. Most likely Francis was closely connected with John Barnard of Watertown, as their children both select wives from the Goffe family of Cambridge. Francis' son, Thomas, graduated from Cambridge with the class of 1679 and went to Andover to help the Rev. Francis ^{Dane,} Dane, in 1682. He ~~was~~ then nearly 70 years old.

Young Thomas Barnard was to have 50£ a year, while Mr. Dane preached- one fourth of the amount only, in silver-- wheat and corn firewood and the use of the parsonage, making up the total. He was to have 80 £ when Mr. Dane's work was over. That may have ceased in 1686 when Elizabeth Price came up to be his helpmate.

The young couple then started to catch up with Stephen (2), of Robert(1)'s line, who in 15 years, had gotten back some of the old estate which had passed into the hands of "Walter Wright and Joseph Marble, near Capt. Christopher Osgood and James/⁽³⁾Barnard's estate", as it is described in 1714, a few years before Stephen's death, when his sons, Robert, John and Steohen(3), pass a parcel about among them. .A few months later when Joseph Wright emigrates to Conn., he parts, for 120 £ with the land his father bought from Joseph Marble, -to the Barnard heirs. Whether or not it was part of Robert(1)'s original holding, the family of Stephen (2) had a fair inheritance up on the old Indian trail along the Frye Village Ridge, through from the Frye School House over to the fish-way at Bodwell's Ferry, held by a Barnard as late as 1838. (Get off the car at Tompkins, take the road just North of the Andover line and walk West to the old road, then back south to the last cross-way near Donald's.)

Stephen's daughter, Hanna (3), married her playmate, Joseph Marble, at 17. Robert (3) took for a wife, neighbor Christopher Osgood's daughter, Rebecca. Stephen(3) married Hanna Bixby, of another Merrimac family, while James with his wife Abigail, form another plantation, as do John and his Naomi-possibly a sister of Dorothy Hoyt who married John Lovejoy about the same time.

The home farm went in John(3) 's line. He outlived his son, dying at 82, in 1756. Amy, or Naomi, lived on until 1762, until she was 90. John(3)'s last words:-"This husbandman, advanced in years, even to old age of a perfect mind and memory, thanks be to God"-leaves all to his beloved Naomi; to John's children, ("5 sh. added to all I gave John when he was alive") and legacies for his daughters and their husbands, and to Mary, the daughter of his dead son, Nathaniel, who married a neighboring Shattuck lad.

Nathaniel (4) married Ruth Preston, and the Mary mentioned in her grandsir's will was the only child who lived. John(4) died intestate, and from inventory and appraisal I was able to get an idea of his widow's homestead.

John (4) married 1st, Sarah Osgood. Her children were : Sara, Jemima, Addis, John, Jacob and an infant daughter, who died young. His second wife, Mehitabel, died in 1739, with no record of children in Town or County. He then married Alice Holt, who survived him, with six children.

Jacob the youngest is taken into consideration when the neighbors go down to Court to begin the serious business of making a just division of his large estate. Widow Ruth(Nath(4), goes down the same day to look after the estate of her daughter Mary.

Nathaniel(4) 's estate consisted of 50 acres of the homestead; the dead children's clothes; a good library; husk bed, silk blanket; a cradle; loom, flax and such a quantity of Sheep, Beef and Calf skins, he would appear to have been a "boss" shoemaker, besides manufacturing cloth and blankets.

Peter Percy, a most interesting resident, Daniel Mooar and Barrachius Abbott take charge....Brother John's affairs are cared for by Thomas Holt, for his sister Alice, the widow, and I imagine he had a shrewd man to deal with in young John(5).

The ancient Barnard homestead at the turn of the road in Frye Village fell to John, with the house to the North and barn across the way; woodland, 60 acres at Wolfpit, worth 100 £; his father's stock and the best coat, with much pine boards and lumber- the only hint that he was possibly a carpenter.

Thomas Holt calls on widow Ruth's men to help, and they divide the estate into sections. Some is sold for necessary cash to pay small debts- George Abbott and Samuel Phillips among the creditors. Dr. Noyes and Dr. Abbott have pretty good bills against the estate. John Crow, who asks for 19 sh., is probably a hired man or forced servant.

The BARNARD FAMILY

Widow Alice, for her dower got her share of the dwelling-house, from the bottom of the cellar to the top of the chimney, with well and garden rights. St. John Poor and Thomas Wardwell are neighbors. Alice dies the same year her aged mother-in-law Naomi goes, and John pays to the six youngest of Alice's brood, 4 £ apiece. To his own sister, Sara Kidder, her woodlot. Jeremia Hazelton-a new one- brings Ben Poor to help settle who shall have the last relics of his mother.

The quaint description of the woman's pair of shirts; the silk, cotton and wool and tow aprons; 1 pocket handkerchief; 6 caps and the precious baby linen and blankets of little Jacob, then only 12; her linen bags, stockings, quilted coat, stuff gown, old one, plaid, silk crepe, the long hood and handkerchief and bonnet,-give us a good idea of the wardrobe of a well-to-do farmer's wife of the day.

An array of China, plate, chopping knife and flesh fork, winding up with what appears to be a "smatter", gives us the salt mortar--and such an advance on the price of her hoard of salt as to pay the funeral expenses,- without counting the rents... Alice was a thorough Holt and saved for the thrifty Barnard girls, who all received a pretty silver gift. Her step-daughter, Sara, shared equally with her own five.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It is essential for the company to have a clear and concise system in place to ensure that all data is properly recorded and stored. This will allow for easy access and retrieval of information when needed.

In addition, the paper highlights the need for regular audits and reviews of the financial statements. This will help to identify any discrepancies or errors early on, allowing for prompt correction and ensuring the integrity of the financial data.

The second part of the paper focuses on the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It is essential for the company to have a clear and concise system in place to ensure that all data is properly recorded and stored. This will allow for easy access and retrieval of information when needed.

EARLY RECORDS OF THE
BERRY FAMILY
OF ANDOVER

COMPILED BY
CHARLOTTE HELEN ABBOTT

THE BERRY FAMILY

Thaddeus Berry, I had from the Transcript, was in Boston, 1665, and was later in Lynn and Rumney Marsh. I had from Bodge that he enlisted under Col. John Whipple of Ipswich, June 24, 1676 in a company credited from Lynn, Aug. 24, 1676. As a soldier grantee, his claim lay in Boxton, Me., and John Mitchell bought it. A daughter, Mary Mitchell, and Ambrose Berry, seem to take it. Thaddeus married Hannah Farrar, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth of Lynn. He died June 5, 1718. Hannah was still alive. In 1720 his estate was divided.

A son, John (2) lived in Wenham, according to the Transcript. He moved to Danvers or Salem Village, for he was taxed there in 1707. A deposition given in 1719 regarding Wenham bounds of Salem Village, said that John lived in Wenham 24 years previously and saw the Wenham line perambulated, -so he must have been in Wenham 1695.

On April 11, 1722, John (2) Berry, then of Wenham, bought of Edward Fuller of Salem Village a house and barn in Salem, 160 acres of land. The bds. were Tom Bayley, Samuel Lambert, Beadry Brook, Wm. and Joseph Fuller Ben Fuller, the Boxford line, Daniel Kenny and Timothy Wilkins.

Later in Salem, Oct. 6, 1727, John's four sons bought of Ben Fuller, Sr., 60 acres near their own land. John (2) in a sale to his brother Tom (2) of his share of the estate in Rumney Marsh, refers to the probate that gave his share of 23 acres in that section in 1720, and said that part of his father, Thaddeus' estate lay in Boston and part in Lynn.

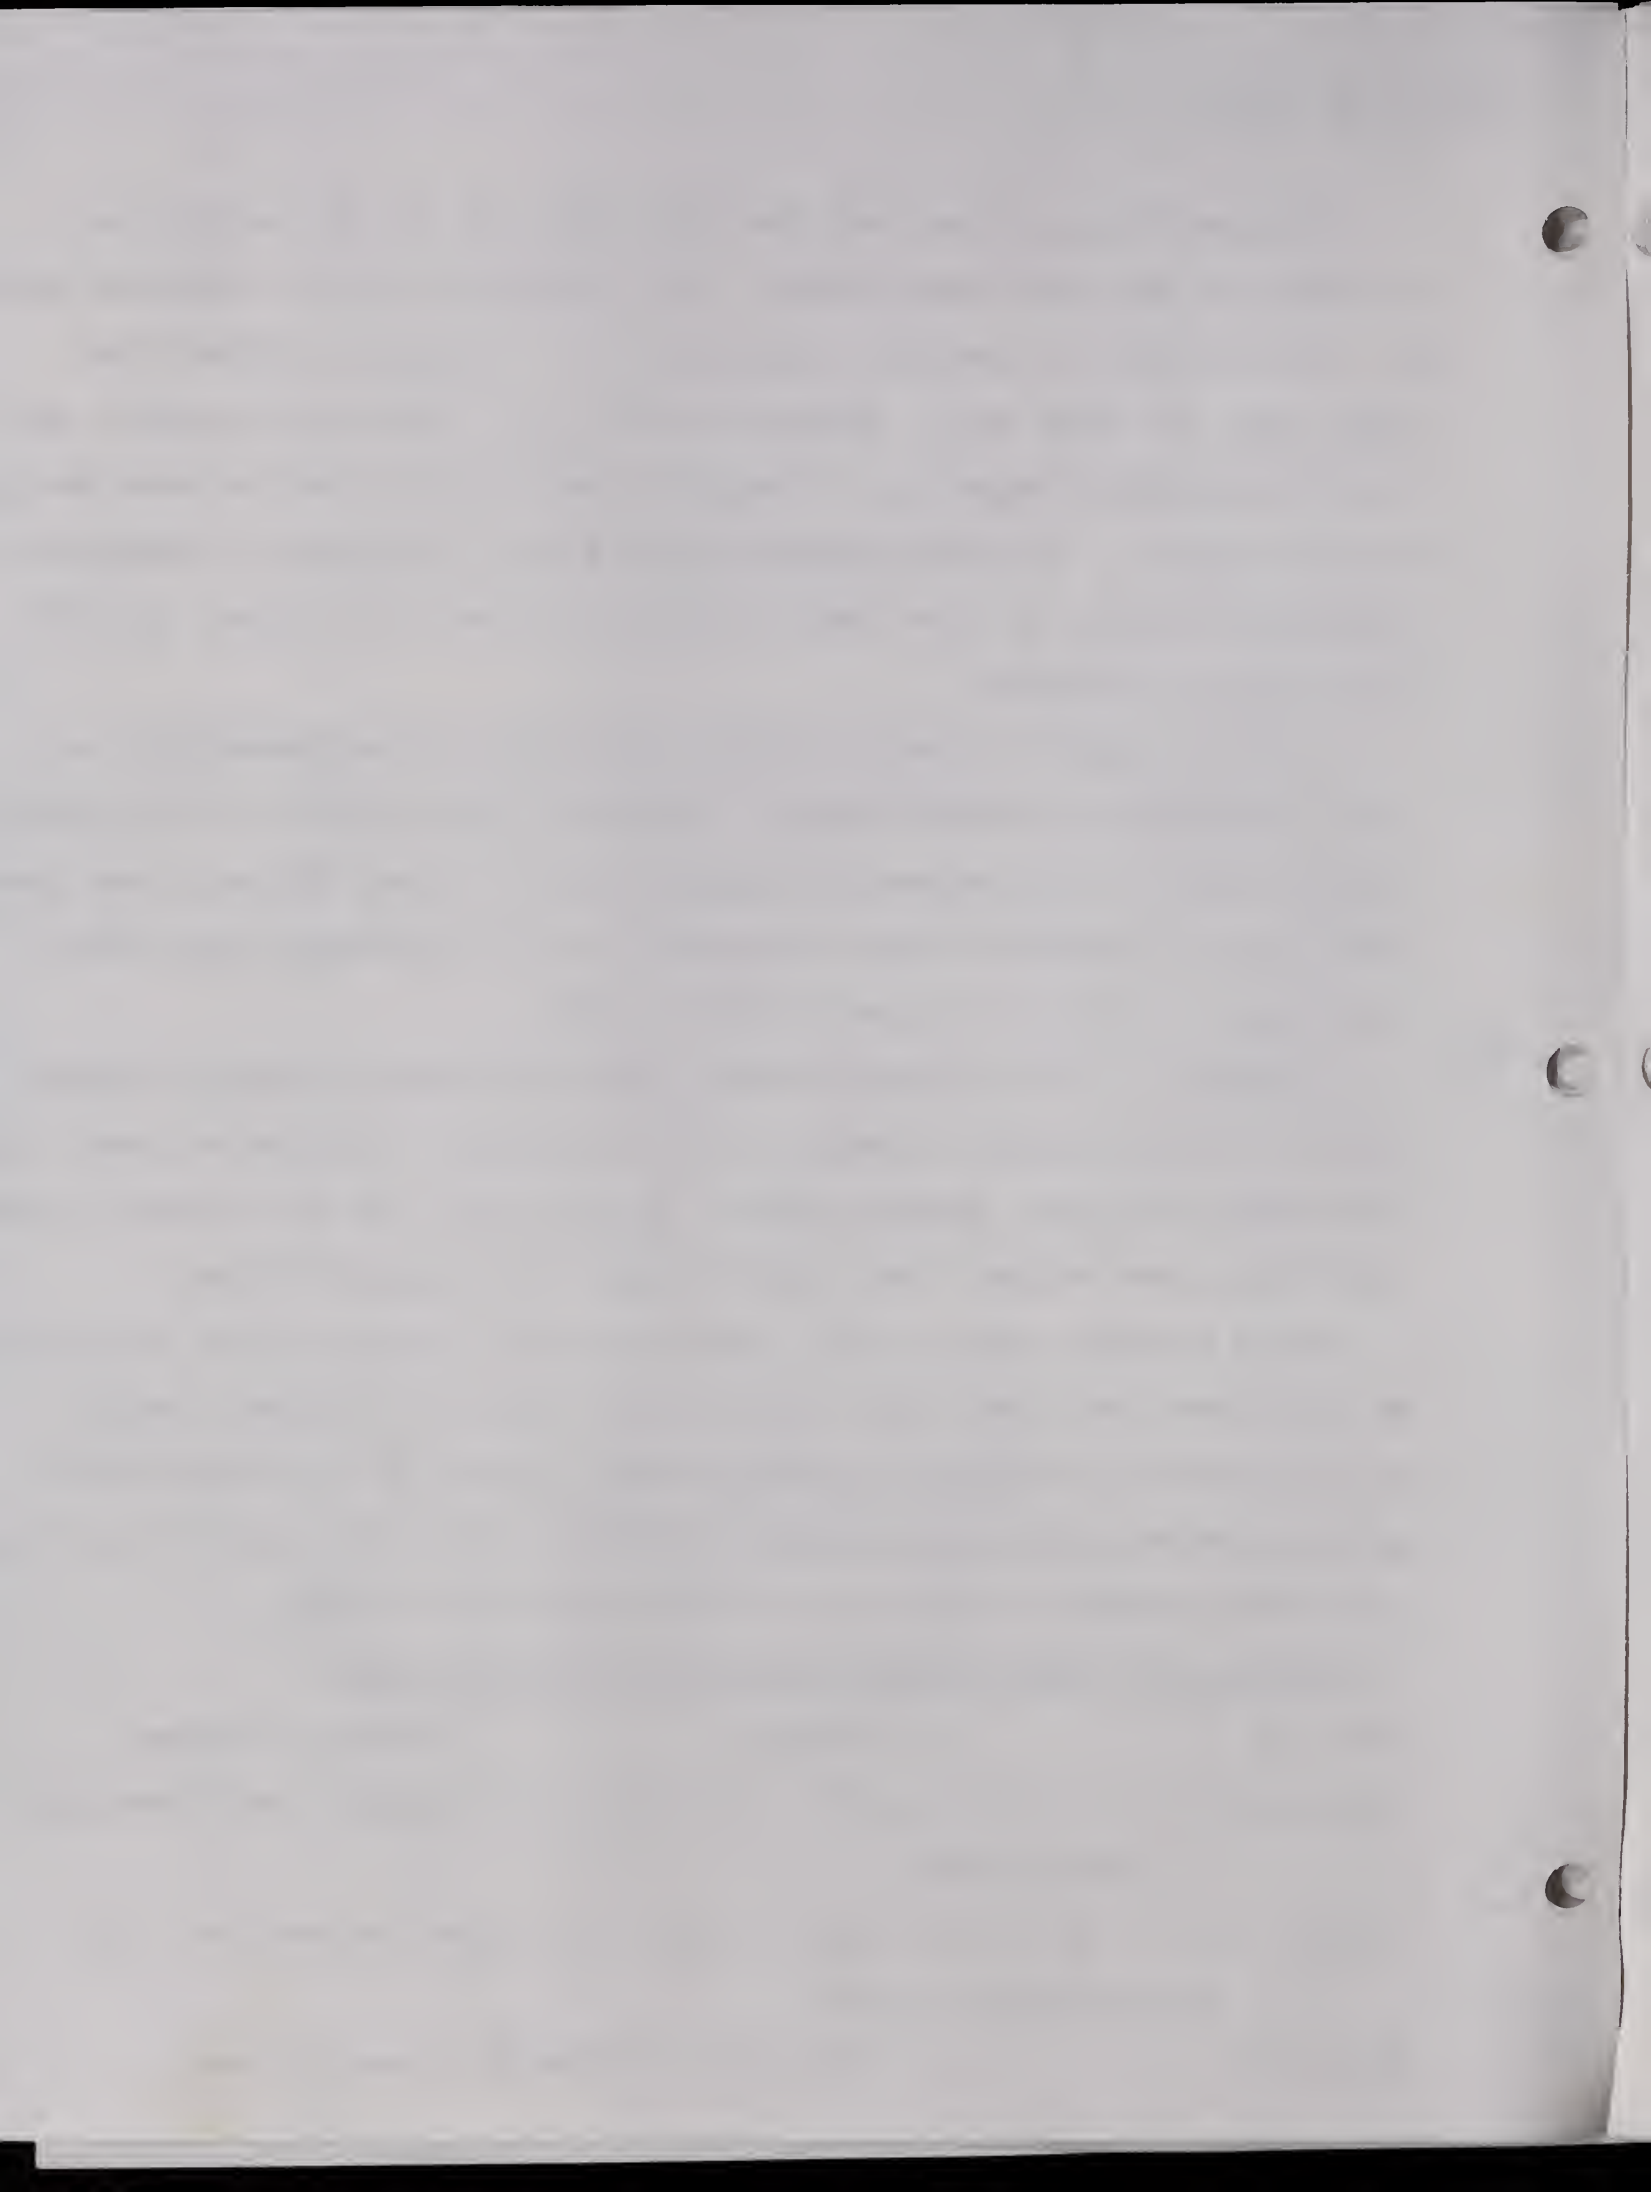

Thaddeus (1) Berry and his wife, Hannah Farrar, had:-

John (2) ; m. Rachel-- ; lived in Wenham.

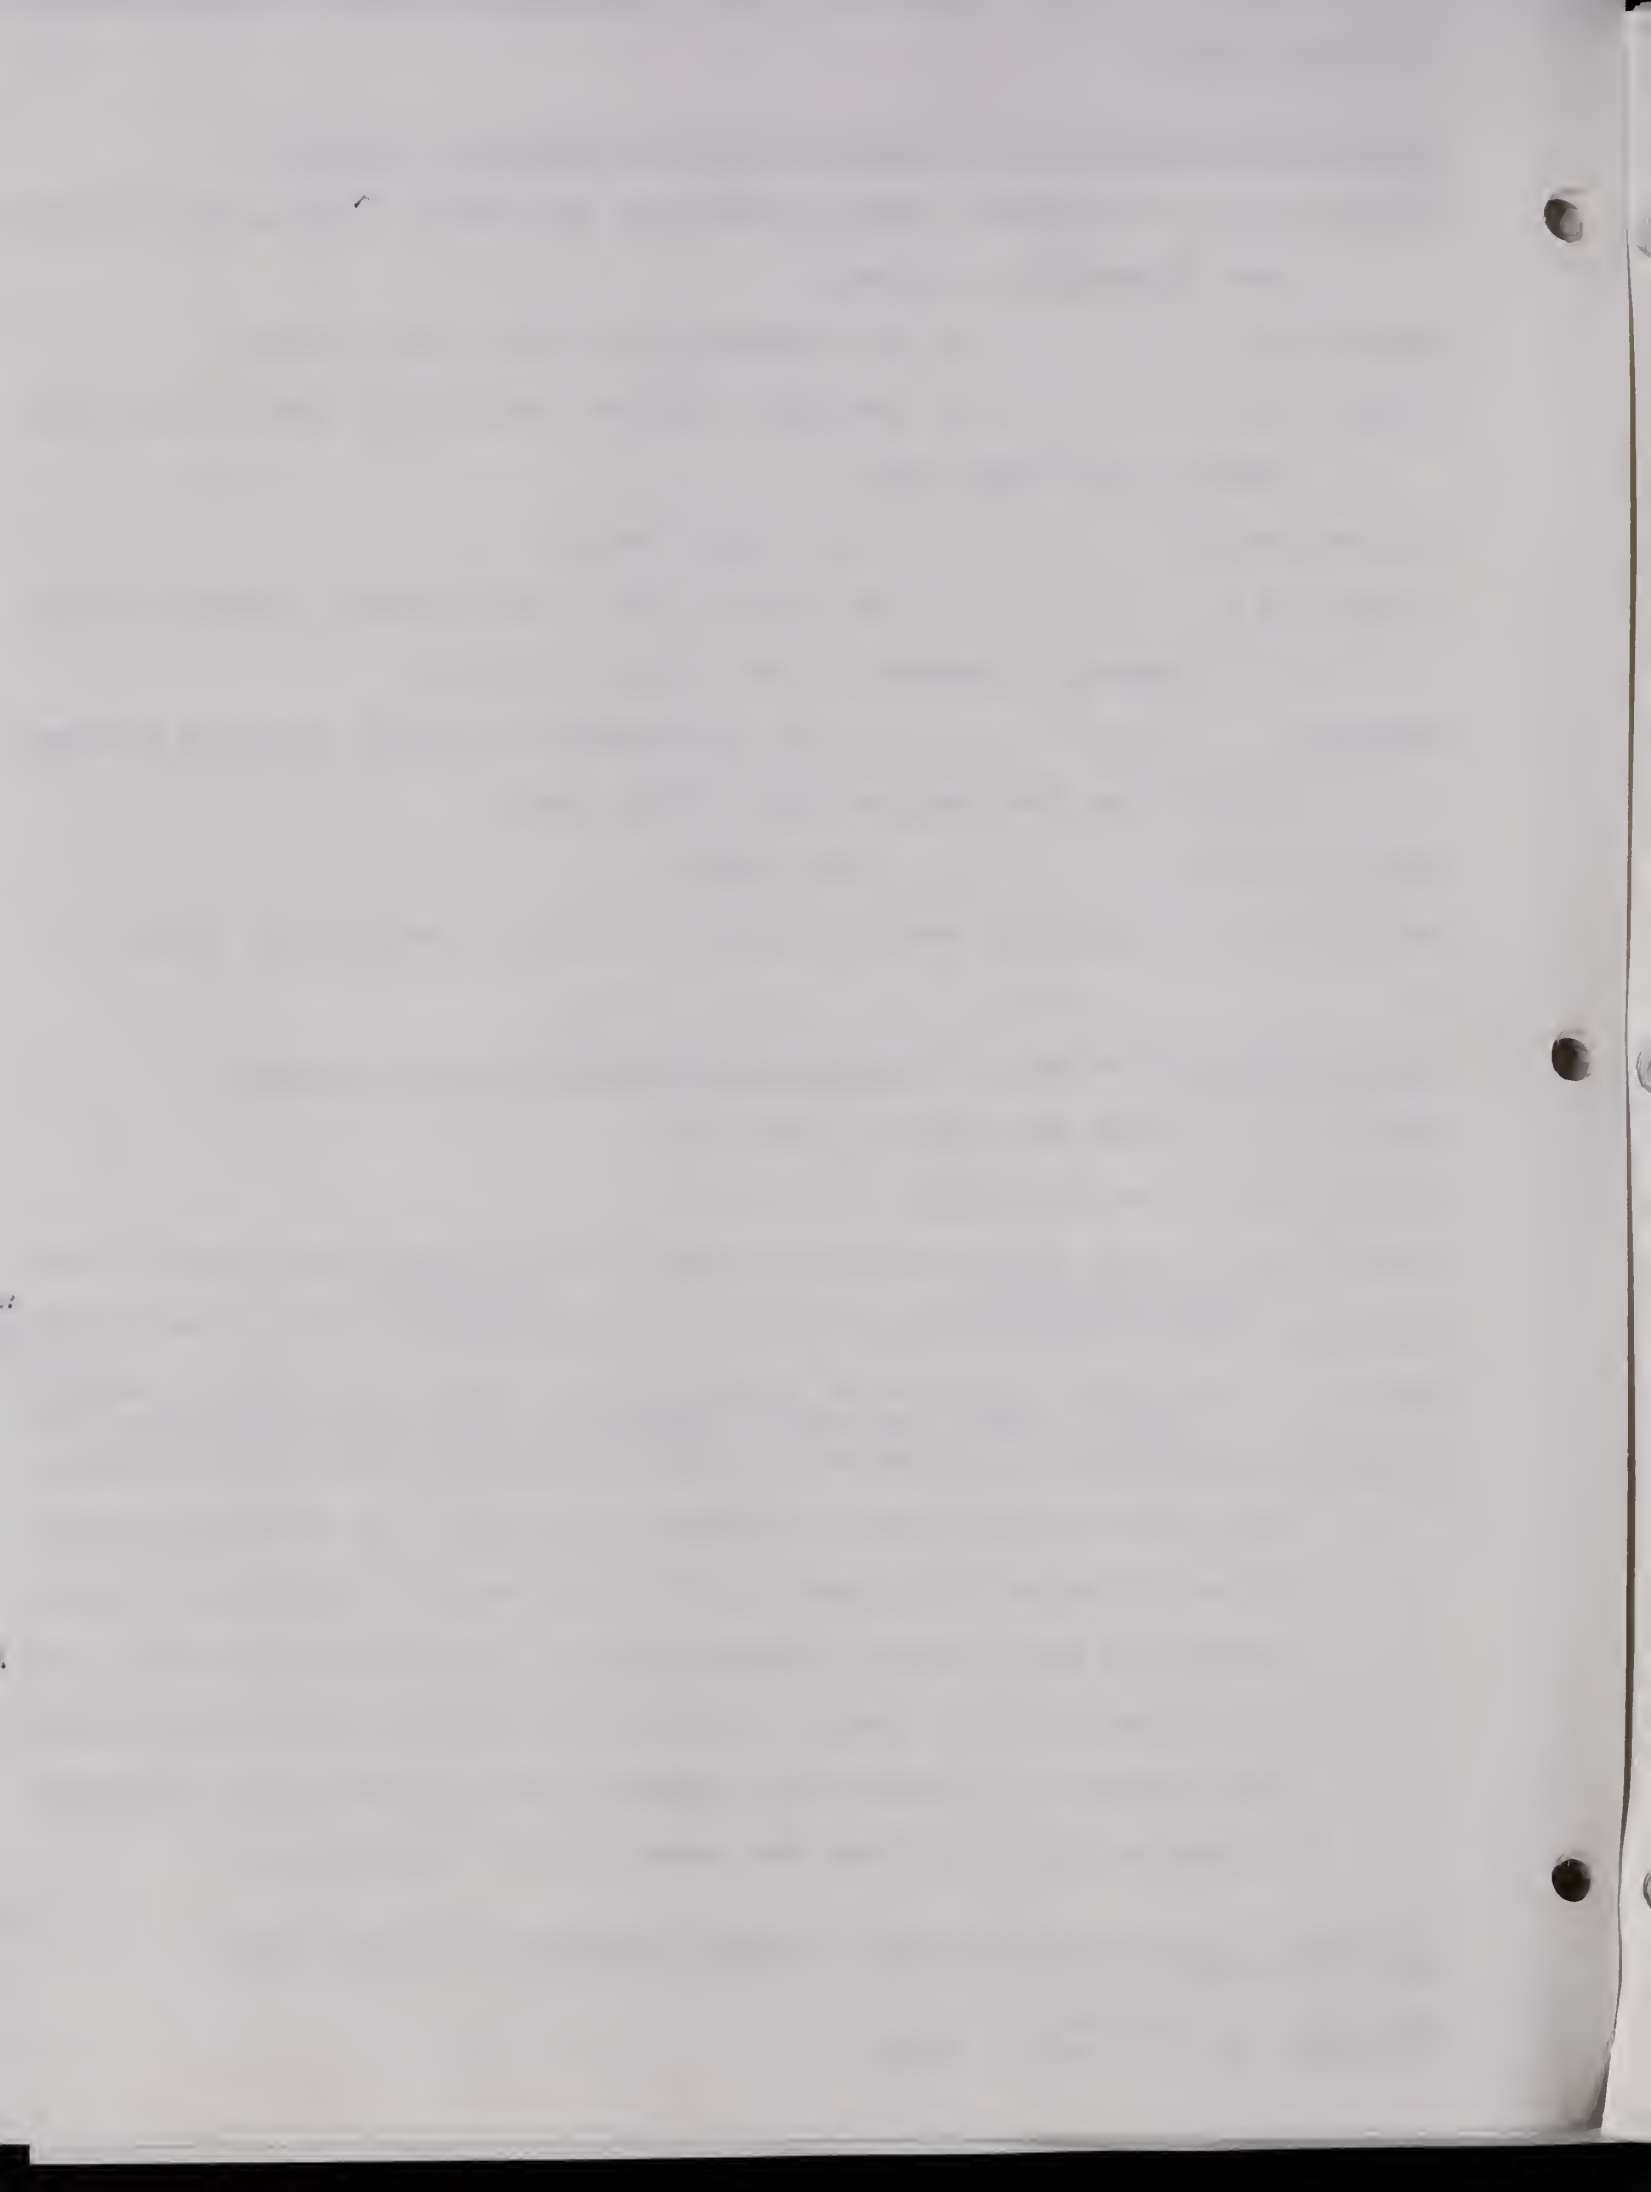

Elizabeth (2) b. in Boston, Nov. 24, 1665; m. May 22, 1690 Joseph Townsend;
d. Feb. 27, 1693.

Hannah (2), b. in Boston, Aug. 12, 1668; m. Edmond Needham; was left 1 cow in father's will.

Sarah (2) ; m. Nov. 29, 1700 Tom Stockton of Lynn.

Elizabeth (3), b. Oct. 1, 1692.

Thomas(2) Berry(Thaddeus(1) and wife, Elizabeth Divan of Lynn, had:-

Tom(3), b. in Lynn, March 14, 1695; d. April 4.

Samuel (3), b. June 25, 1697; probably d.y.

Phebe (4)th b. Oct.2,1732; m. Francis Elliott May 26,1747; to Thompson, Conn by 2nd wife, Susanna Perkins:-

Elizabeth (4), b. Feb.13, 1738; d.y.

Susanna (4), b. Feb.4, 1742;m. Jonathan Wilkins, Oct.9, 1764

Ebenezer (4), b. Nov.19, 1746; m. Abigail Knight, 1764.

Samuel(4), b. July 17,1751; m. Mary Stiles 1779;lived on the homestead while the rest went to Danvers.

(Old Mr. Stiles of the Townsman files, in No. 23, said that Eben Berry, then 80 years old, told him some years earlier, that his father, Ebenezer, the proprietor of the Danvers Hotel, before him, was born in North Andover, in the last house on the line near Middleton-on the old North Road. The cellar is still to be seen near the railroad. He says the house was in the possession of Samuel Farnum in 1700 and a Perry ancestor of the Ben, spokesman,- bought a tract joining it, from Stephen Barker. (This is Andover, now) Ben Berry, gentleman, had much estate and I conclude he got the Samuel Farnum place on a mortgage.)

Capt. Ben (3) Berry (John(2) Thad(1) and wife, Priscilla Smith, had:-

Ben (4), b. Aug. 22, 1739 in Middleton; m. 1st, Mary--^{before 1760;/}; m. 2nd., Phebe Perkins, 1770.

John (4), b. 1756, Jan. 13; bapt. in North Church, probably had a wife, Polly---

Sarah (4), b. Jan. 20, 1758

Stiles told of a Berry farm, now burned down, which was on the crossroad east of David Richardson's in Middleton. Lots of the family are buried there in a field across the road not far from where Peter Towne's house stands- now dilapidated. According to the tale, a man from the Berry place/^{went} to Peter Towne's and his dog followed him. While the master chopped on the woodlot, the dog played around in some straw which had been in the bed of a small-pox patient.The dog carried the disease home and the family died. The house was deserted and fell to pieces.

This was at the time that Lydia Abbott, wife of Peter Towne died of small -pox, during the Revolution- and it is said that the germ was communicated to her by a pinch of snuff at the hands of a discarded lover- very likely Ben Frye,who lived near and died of small-pox himself, the same winter

See contribution of Stiles in Andover Townsman, No. 23.

" Ebenezer Berry, age 80 in 1889, proprietor of a hotel in Danvers, said that his father, Eben, was born in North Andover in the last house on the Middleton line on the old North Road- the cellar still to be seen, near the railroad. He said that he kept some old papers that came from the old place.

It was held in 1700 by Sam Farnum and that same year an ancestor of Stiles bought some land adjoining the same farm from Stephen Barker;- 4 score rods long; 3 score rods wide- over in Andover- which was next the Salem line near the old Fuller house. (In 1728 Middleton was set off and took from Andover a mile north, and from Salem Village, 4 miles.)

The papers he referred to, allude to Eben Berry's grand-father, who had some wealth for his day;- "Salem, Dec. 25, 1746, have received of Mr. Ben Berry 200 £. payment in full for a negro boy I have this day sold him, and delivered- named Thomas Woute, etc.- " David Putnam and Tom Lee, wit.

Mary Long and Mercy Berry witness a receipt, of payment of 5 £ 10sh. by Capt. Ben Berry, Aug. 20, 1766.

Eben Berry said that old Ben was a Captain in the French War. After his death the house goods were sold at auction and the grand-mother of Mr. Stiles bid in a pewter platter which she kept for many years in a buffet in the corner of the room where she lived. The house is now owned by Hiram A. Stiles.

When the writer of the article, David Stiles-(the first grand-son) crawled into her room from another part of the house, she took down the platter and put him on it and carried him to the room where his parents were eating dinner, saying, " Here he is; serve him as you see fit. If he lives to grow up, tell him how he came by this platter." ... The platter is stamped " B.B." and is of English make. Mr. Stiles said that anyone could see it but he would not part with it for $1,000. It is very large and probably held a roast of beef at dinner, on state occasions.

OF
THE BLANCHARD FAMILY
OF ANDOVER

COMPILED BY
CHARLOTTE HELEN ABBOTT

The BLANCHARD FAMILY

OF ANDOVER

Thomas Blanchard, the ancestor of the principal Blanchard family in New England, probably came from Andover, England. He sailed in the JONATHAN of London, to Boston, in 1639, with his wife, children, mother-in-law and the latter's niece.

His wife, the children and his wife's mother were ill during the voyage, and the wife died before they made port. His mother-in-law died as they came to anchor in Boston Harbor. Some of their fellow passengers made a deposition to these deaths several years later :-

"The testimonie of us Inhabitants of Newburie whose names are hereunder written, who about 13 years ago came over here in a ship called the Jonathan of London, with Thomas Blanchard now of Charlestown, at what time his wife dyed in the ship hee was conceived to be very poore and in greate necessity by reason of his wives and childrens sickness, that the passengers made a gathering for him in the shippe to helpe to put his child to nurse; his wives mother also being sick all the while wee were at sea and wee knew no other man that looked to her but Thomas Blanchard, but there was a maide which was her neece tended her.

"Ffurther I Anthony Somerby testifies that about the time the ship came to Anchor in Boston Harbor, the woman, his mother-in-law died, and Thomas Blanchard procured to cary her to shore to be buried, I know no other man that was about it but hee.

" Ffurther Nicholas (noyes) testifies that old Goody Bent came up from Andeuer to London in a waggon with the carryers, And Thomas Blanchard tooke care of her and her goods ffrom Andeuer to the ship and she was with Thomas Blanchards family about a month at London, and that there was a gathering among christians in england to help him ouer.
Taken upon oath at Ipswich Court. July 28, 1652-- ^{nicholas noyes} Anthony Somerby

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud.

It is noted that the system should be designed to ensure that all data is entered correctly and that any discrepancies are identified and corrected promptly. The document also mentions the need for regular audits to verify the accuracy of the records.

The second part of the document describes the various components of the system, including the database, the user interface, and the reporting module. It details how these components interact to provide a comprehensive view of the financial data.

The database is described as the central repository for all financial data, and it is noted that it must be secure and reliable. The user interface is designed to be intuitive and easy to use, allowing users to navigate through the data and generate reports with minimal effort.

The reporting module is responsible for generating various types of reports, including balance sheets, income statements, and cash flow statements. It is noted that the reports should be customizable, allowing users to select the specific data and format they need.

The document also discusses the importance of data security and the need to implement robust security measures to protect the financial data from unauthorized access. It mentions the use of encryption and access controls to ensure that only authorized users can view or modify the data.

Finally, the document concludes by stating that the system is designed to be scalable and flexible, allowing it to grow with the organization's needs. It emphasizes that the system should be easy to maintain and update, ensuring that it remains a valuable tool for the organization.

The document also includes a section on the implementation process, which outlines the steps required to deploy the system and train the users. It notes that a thorough testing phase is essential to ensure that the system is working correctly before it is put into production.

In conclusion, the document provides a detailed overview of the financial system, highlighting its key features and the importance of proper record-keeping. It serves as a guide for the development and implementation of the system, ensuring that it meets the organization's requirements.

The document is intended for use by the organization's management and the development team. It provides a clear understanding of the system's capabilities and the steps required to implement it successfully.

Rum, sugar, allspice: 9 shillings
1/2 bbl. cider: 5 shillings.
Coffin: 7 shillings; digging grave: 10 sh.

Old Sam Blanchard had 200 acres- in a bunch, -for his farm, on a road by the Pond, down to Jacob Osgood's place- that was the late Wadleigh Noyes' estate. The Winning farm is part of the Blanchard homestead, and the old house stood back of Upton's- opposite on an old unused road, once a garrison house- and there when Abiel Upton came to Andover. Upton built a new house near the Winning place. Sam Blanchard is said to be the one who lived on the Chase place near the Tewksbury line.

Poor(historian) said that a ^{very old} house was drawn from Henry Boynton's place in 1840 by Alfred Holt, down the Tewksbury Almshouse Road to the line, and Henry Flint lived in it in 1863, though it was still owned by a Blanchard heir.

Lovejoy House ?

The homestead of Thomas (3) Blanchard was ^{near} ~~at~~ the site of the Upton and Parker Winning estates (see 1872 map) on the road leading out from the West Parish school-house to the old Osgood place of James Otis fame. Josiah's(4) share probably covered both of above estates. Josiah (5) lived there and Sam'l (6), his son, went from there to Salem. The old home stood back of George Upton's place , and a garrison house once stood back of the Blanchard homestead, on an unused road, on the town line. Abiel Upton, father of George, bought the CHASE farm, which was on the site of the acres of the early Tm (3) and Josiah(4). Part of the old house was later taken to Tewksbury and made over into an el for the house of Aaron Frost. Thomas (6) and Samuel Blanchard, lived there longest of all the tribe.

This line of CHASE is entirely distinct from that of Seth Chase who lived on the Jameson place, once the property of Joseph (4) Blanchard. This was on the present Argilla Road (see 1872 map) , west of the cemetery upland. Sara Ballard took over the property from Daniel (5)(see 131:74), 1771. She and her nephew planted an elm tree on the day they learned of the signing of the Declaration of Independance. The tree was still alive in 1911. It stood in front of Jameson's yellow house which stood endwise to the road and had a porch in front.

From Widow Sara Ballard , the house went to David Towne who sold to John Chase. He in turn sold it to Joseph Abbott who passed it on to David Jameson. Jameson tried to fix it up after he bought it but left to take the Dane place then in the market. The home, built in 1710, was finally sold to Sullivan, who moved across the road, and pulled down the old relic, after 1860/.

The home of Amos Blanchard and three acres of land adjoining, are now the site of Bartlett Hall. They were sold to the Seminary.

Notes-

South Church Manual, May 25, 1729:- "Refers to a meeting Oct. 1718, when because of a difference between the brothers, Samuel and Jonathan Blanchard Sam and his wife were not permitted full communion."

The parson and the brothers do not agree exactly, and Phillips asks the Church to overlook the matter, and to signify their willingness by raising their hands, Only two did so. He then asked if they would accept Sam, if he- Sam- did his utmost to settle the affair in reason, and the majority signified 'Aye'.

Jonathan, as it happens, was left the homestead at his father's death- (Sam) and he was to pay Sam 10 lbs., according to his father's will, but he objected to doing so. Sam went with two witnesses as commanded by the Church, and offered to let Jonathan off on payment of 8 lbs. instead of the 10 lbs. due him. He hoped "it would be more for peace to do so than to bind my brother to a certain sum."

The parson thanked Sam for his resolve, also thanked God, and told Sam that he would be no loser by the act. On May 31, Sam and his wife, Sara, were admitted to full communion.

Jonathan was evidently a greedy man, and had a pull with the Church. The parson evidently sided with Sam and wanted the case settled legally. A curious picture of the interference by the Church in business matters.

Corey's MALDEN- page 487:-

Thomas Blanchard (1) bought , with John Guppy, the Wilson farm, at Wilson's Point, Malden about 1651. The deed to the house is recorded in 1654 and Tom is a resident.. The Wilson house/ lots were divided in 1657, by George and Nath'l. and Nath'l sold 9 acres of his share to brother Sam(2). Nath'l also helped to put up a second house and I conclude that Joshua (3) got that- on 1 acre of ground called Flax Ground- lying between highway and the swamp- probably a little rocky as flax love that kind.

Middlesex -2:51:99-- This place inherited by Joshua and his heirs gradually was sold off and by 1795 only the house was left on the Point, and was owned by Capt. Wymard Bradbury, a retired mariner.

In 1661 the Blanchard brothers disputed with Guppy over the fences on the Wilson Farm property . The Town interfered finally and stopped the quarrel.

The Highway ran near George (2) Blanchard's land, and a quarrel again came up over fences. In 1694 a committee was appointed to locate the new new Highway from the Blanchard fence, and as Guppy and the Blanchard tribes were always in a row, the identification of the site was easy.

John history of Nottingham N.H. he was sent to Exeter N.H.
George (2), it appears, would not educate his family in the fear of the Lord and of Knowledge, 1672. (this is known as the left house) His home was near new came to America see history Gov. Craddock's, now Medford called Willington, of the West Medford section.

Tom(1) Blanchard's first wife, mother of the children, was very likely of English stock. Possibly the Blanchards were a different variety of temperament than her's. Looks like Irish blood, so belligerent. Nobody has ever looked for the antecedants of Tom (1) on the South Shore of Ireland.

Sam (2) and wife Mary, got a legacy in the will of W. Godelin, a roving trader, Feb. 1663, - 16 lbs. Godelin was about to leave New England, and made the will in 1662, when he was 64. He was drowned, 1666- probably at sea.

Blanchard Probate:- Essex County.

309:198-- Sam (2) Blanchard, age 75- bodily health, etc,- provides for wife Hannah's maintenance-"just and honorable, put of my estate ,with her own labor, while a widow;"to eldest son, Joshua," all my farm in Charlestown, he dwells on- 2 lots of commons and all he now has of mine."

To Jonathan (3), the land E side and N side of a line marked from a Pond Hole " where my pasture fence joins wall to Highway till it comes to Abraham More's part of home meadow in possession- half of More's meadow- E of Andover land and N of highway- lengthwise - of road- rest of land not fenced on the piece next Stephen Osgood's to Thomas (3) Blanchard's."

To David Stratton, 15 Lbs.; to daughter Hannah Osgood, 20 Lbs.; to Dorothy Storer" which is my grandchild", 10 Lbs., to be paid by Joshua, when she is 18.

Jonathan (3) and brother Thomas (3) were to have the " house meadow not reserved for myself", divided.

John (3) to enjoy what is deeded by gift to him and what he has in hand.(Billerica).

Thomas (3) has land E end of home meadow-South upland and meadow- home and fences on it; right of commons belonging to a 6 acre lot(from a deed of Henry Jaquith and Mark Graves) to be shared among the three sons, Joshua, Tom and Sam- also all the estate remaining;- 2 cows to be given to Tom " in case the cows outlive me; the youngest horse, the black horse, to my dear wife."

Sam (3) is to pay the 2 legacies to daughters Stratton and Osgood and maintain his mother, before he takes possession of land and estate I have given him. (This looks as though Sam (2) lived on the Boynton side of the Pond, and left the garrison end, to build a new house .

In case Sam refuses to pay legacies to his sisters, Thomas is to pay Sam 20 Lbs. and Jonathan is to have the rest of the farm assigned to Sam and pay legacies and maintain his mother. Joshua was to pay all debts. Jonathan, exec. Nov. 21, 1704. 3rd year of Anne, Queen of Scotland, France and Ireland."

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded and verified. This ensures that the financial statements are reliable and can be used for decision-making purposes.

The second part of the document describes the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It mentions that data is collected from multiple sources, including surveys, interviews, and observations. The data is then analyzed using statistical techniques to identify trends and patterns.

The third part of the document outlines the results of the study. It shows that there is a significant correlation between the variables being studied. The findings suggest that the proposed model is effective in predicting the outcomes of the study.

The fourth part of the document discusses the limitations of the study. It acknowledges that there are some limitations to the data and the methods used. However, it also highlights the strengths of the study and the potential for future research.

The fifth part of the document provides a conclusion and recommendations. It summarizes the main findings of the study and provides recommendations for future research. It also discusses the implications of the study for practice and policy.

SOME AMOS BLANCHARDS of FAME.

Notes from Newhall's Sketch of Lynn.

He speaks of the good old Master Blanchard, page 274-vol.1. Essex Co. History:-

Dr. Amos Blanchard came in 1811 to take charge of the district school, in a lumbering old carriage, with ten children and two others added, in due time. His salary was never over $ 350 per year. He kept a private evening school and did odd jobs as a scrivener and accountant. He taught for 10 years in a little, square, one story wooden building with hipped roof, half way across Lynn Common, opposite the end of Commercial street.

Reading, Spelling, Writing, Defining, Ciphers, Grammar; Good Manners, Deportment and Respect for Old Age, were the curriculum. He was a rigid Puritan and kept the Church from swerving to the liberal side. He had one hour a week devoted to Morals, Lectures and Prayers.

He led singing ~~in~~ 1811 to 1824. Was a musician of much skill and taste and composed Psalm tunes. He had been a fifer in the Revolutionary Army and drew a pension. He taught singing school, but music was not taught in schools then.

Influence lay in his character and intelligence and manners. He had little humor. He died May 25, 1842; born, according to Bible record, 1766.

On North Church records: July 19, 1805, Amos Blanchard dismissed to Exeter, N.H. May 17, 1807, same records: Amos Blanchard and wife, from Milford, N.H.

Another famous Amos, was Amos Blanchard, D.D. son of a contemporary. His father, Amos, came from Wilton and worked for the Trustees of Phillips Academy and became Cashier of Andover Bank, etc. His son, Rev. Amos. D.D. born March 7, 1807, in Andover, was in Yale Theological Seminary, 1829- and ordained Dec. 25, 1829 at 1st Church of Lowell. He was there until 1845 and then went to the Rich St. Church until his death, Jan. 14, 1870.

Another Amos Blanchard, born Sept. 5, 1800 in Peacham Vt., was agent of the American Tract Society for western New York State, 1828-9; editor of Cinn. Church Journal, 1830-31; ordained July 27, 1831 in Lyndon, Vt.; 1832-1835 agent of Indian Comm. School Ass'n; 1835 at Chicopee, Mass; 1836, Warren, N.H.; 37-39 Meriden, N.H.; Church in Barnard, Vt. 1865; died Jan. 6, 1869.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It is essential for the business to have a clear and concise record of all income and expenses. This will help in the preparation of the tax return and in the event of an audit.

The second part of the paper discusses the importance of keeping up to date with the latest tax laws and regulations. The tax laws are constantly changing, and it is important to stay on top of these changes to ensure that the business is in compliance with the law. This can be done by subscribing to a tax newsletter or by consulting with a tax professional.

The third part of the paper discusses the importance of having a good understanding of the business's financial situation. This includes knowing the business's income, expenses, and assets. It is also important to know the business's liabilities and to have a clear understanding of the business's cash flow. This information will be needed to prepare the tax return and to make informed decisions about the business's future.

The fourth part of the paper discusses the importance of having a good understanding of the business's tax situation. This includes knowing the business's tax obligations and the tax consequences of various business decisions. It is also important to know the business's tax credits and deductions. This information will be needed to prepare the tax return and to make informed decisions about the business's future.

The fifth part of the paper discusses the importance of having a good understanding of the business's legal situation. This includes knowing the business's legal obligations and the legal consequences of various business decisions. It is also important to know the business's legal rights. This information will be needed to prepare the tax return and to make informed decisions about the business's future.

BEARD FAMILY

Of Andover

Alfred Poor said :-

SAMUEL BEARD, a poor man, begged enough to build a house west of Knowles on the road to the Osgood school, south of the Lowell road. (See 1853 map toward Ben Dane's place. In 1883 John Field had Knowles' place.)

Then Sam Beard moved his house to Flint's land, near the Tewksbury line near the R.R. He said the first house was owned by a Jennings who bought it from Sam Bean and that old James Merrill used to live in it.

Records :-

Thomas Beard here from Wilmington.

Ebenezer Beard of Wilmington and Katherine Wyman of Pelham, N.H., married June 1, 1751.

Simon and Mary Beard, in Pelham, 1783.

Horace Beard of ANDOVER probably came from N.H. also.

BERWICK FAMILY

of Andover

Robert Berwick, of Andover, was brought to court in 1651, for not answering to the Grand Jury. He was evidently an official of some kind. (Essex Antiquarian notes.)

The town of Berwick, Maine was named for this same family.

Thomas Berwick held lots at Tisbury on Martha's Vineyard, 1675, and was in Newport, 1680. Was only a transient in the vineyard.

Thomas Berwick of Bristol England, 1628, a vintner, had two daughters, -Grace and Anne. Was Grace the wife of William Ballard?

Did Anne marry Lordick of Charlestown ? Did the line go to Barbadoes before 1661?
